Sales of Leakfrog product completed with new customer

Qonnectis, the data monitoring service provider for utilities and users of energy and water, announces that it has sold 250 units of its Leakfrog product to Northumbrian Water Limited ("Northumbrian Water"). Northumbrian Water is a new customer for the Company and will be using the Leakfrog product to fit them to its Elster V210P water meters in order to reduce water loss within its network by detecting customer side leakage.

Barbara Spurrier, Interim Chief Executive of Qonnectis, commented:

"Whilst this sales order is modest in size, it is the first order achieved by the Company in a number of months.

I am pleased to see that the appointment of a new sales manager has already produced results with the addition of a significant new customer in Northumbrian Water."
